Come to the big rally next Friday.

Vote the democratic ticket from Bryan to Ed Mayer.

Join a democratic club if you are not already a member, and attend the meetings.

The 6th of November will not be a lucky day for democrats to go fishing. Remember what befell the party six years ago.

Remember that the next legislature will be required to re-district the State which fact makes it very important that we send a democrat.

MARK HANNA says "trust McKinley" but unfortunately for Mark, the people have made up their minds to trust Wm. J. Bryan this time.

The poor laboring man can probably get some consolation out of the fact, that he is the object of great solicitude at least once in every four years.

DEMOCRATS who stay at home on election day, won't be counted. If you are a democrat you can hardly afford to do less for the principles you profess to believe, than stand and be counted.

In this issue of THE PRESS we publish the Constitutional Amendments, to be voted on at the coming November election. Our readers will have ample opportunity to read, study, and arrive at an intelligent understanding of them, as they will, as required, appear in the next three issues.

That the business of our county is being carefully and economically administered is plainly shown in the last financial statement, in which, it may be seen that more than $3,000 of the county's indebtedness was paid last year. This record is not making any noise, but it ought to be a speech to every taxpayer in the county.

The same crowd that a few years back were clamoring for a high protective tariff for their infant industries, and for county that Hon. J. M. Welker, democratic candidate for representative, will, if elected, endeavor to have a stock law passed, is about as weak a thing as could have been started. In the first place we have a stock law which can be adopted by a majority vote only, in counties desiring its adoption. Quite a number of counties have already done so, and several counties will vote on the question at the coming election. Under this law the people have the settlement of the question in their own hands and can do so in their own way. In the next place, it is well known by every one who has given attention to the matter, that a general stock law could not be passed by the legislature of any state possessing as much public and unimproved land as there is in Missouri. And again Mr. Welker is a sensible and no sensible gentleman would make any such assertions.

The man who circulates such reports is either ignorant himself or presuming on the ignorance of the people.

Such demonstrations as occurred at Victor, Colorado, when Roosevelt spoke there, are condemned by all good people regardless of politics, but that such conduct is not confined to any particular party, or locality has been demonstrated time and again. Mr. Bryan received worse treatment at least twice four years ago, once by the students of a great college, and only a few days ago, Hon. David Overmeyer, an honored citizen of a sister state, was invited to address the Workingmen's Bryan Club of St. Louis, at the Coliseum, when a gang of toughs created such a disturbance that the meeting was broken up, and Mr. Overmeyer insulted and not permitted to finish his address.

No reasonable person will blame the good people of St. Louis for the conduct of a gang of rowdies, for if it had been in their power to prevent it, it would not have occurred. It is very unfortunate for any community in which any such disgraceful, contemptible conduct must be tolerated, and instead of trying to make political capital of it, it ought to be condemned in the most forcible manner possible.

"A trust is a thing that knows no politics but plunder and no principles except spoliation of the human race,"—John J. Ingalls.

Hanna says trusts are good things. They are "chummy" for the fellows in 'em.

Hanna delivered a stunning blow to the hotel trust when he removed himself and family to Washington and sent his twenty trunks on ahead to the White House.

There are lots of people in this world who can't understand why if a few people are growing immensely wealthy, everybody should not be happy. The accumulation of wealth in a few hands may make a splendid land, but it takes something like a fair distribution of the good things of life to make a happy one. A reasonably equitable distribution of wealth and monopoly are absolutely incompatible.

"I'll raise the land to hastening ill a prey Where wealth accumulates but men decay."

DONGOLA.

Farmers are busy sowing wheat. L. R. Goodman is rapidly completing our school house.

J. W. Laird has moved to Fredericktown.

Both our blacksmiths are kept busy now.

The republican candidates addressed the people here the 4th. They are expanding now but after Nov. 6, they will contract some.

LEOPOLD.

Last Friday, Oct. 6, the three new bells were dedicated to divine service. At 8:30 a. m. Highmass was sung by Father Heimbacher of Price. After Highmass Very Rev. Father Muehlisen the vicar-general of the arch diocese of St. Louis, proceeded to bless the bells; his assistants were Fathers Heimbacher, Priests of Cape Girardeau, Petri of Charleston and Bettels of this place. The ceremonies were very impressive, the priests first performing an act of contrition by reciting several penitential psalms, after which the dedication proper began. This being over the Rev. Clergy returned to the old church building where very reverend Father Muehlisen gave benediction. The sermon was preached by Rev. Father Petri, who, though being a young priest, (he was ordained last spring), gives great promise of becoming a good preacher. In a very able sermon he gave us first a short history of bells, then explained the beautiful ceremonies attending the blessing and dedication of church bells, after which he earnestly begged the congregation to follow the solemn call of their heavenly tongues.

The bells, three in number, were bought by Father Bettels from the celebrated Stucke's Bell Foundry of St. Louis. The largest, 1100 lb., was given by the society of Christian mothers. The second bell, weighing about 600 lb., was donated by the Young Men's society. The smallest, weighs about 400 lb. All three bear suitable Latin inscriptions. When rung together they give the cord of G major.

Father Bettels has gone off for a few days, accompanied by his nephew, William J. B. During his absence Father H. Petri is filling his place.

The democratic candidates are remarkably dry in more than one way. Several speakers and speeches have been announced. Quite a number of people turned out each line to partake of the good things promised them, but they got to see many men, nor did they hear anything to flatter their vanity. In fact all that some of them got at one time, was a wet skin.

It reminds me of one stirring event that was to take place some years ago in a town somewhere between the Mississippi and the Atlantic. Quite a number of great generals was to be there. It turned out in about this way, as a reporter put it: General so and so was not there, etc. General this and that was there, and that was, general disappointment.

ELMO.

Wheat sowing is the order of the day now.

Our high school opened here Monday, Oct. 1st, with C. C. Lyerly, principal and Miss Effie Lyerly, assistant.

Some of the boys got on a jag here at the blind tiger Saturday night, which resulted in a fight between Wm. Slammer and Eph Grimes, in which the latter got the worst of the game. It looks like there could be something done to stop this kind of work. It is a shame and a disgrace to the community to allow any such business to be carried on and if there is any possible way to stop it, it should be done at once.

T. B. Drum delivered a car load of bone meal at Jackson last week.

George and Marion Bollinger of Patton, were in our town last week, looking for hogs.

Eli J. Seabough began school in the Elm district last Monday. Eli has a good reputation as a teacher.

D. R. Seabough is building a restaurant and grocery store in our town.

Willie, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Fullright is very sick at present. George Probst and wife have a son very sick with scarlet fever at present.

Wm. Macgregor and wife of Marquand, visited the family of W. P. Neff last Friday and Saturday.

Married—On the 7th, at the residence of the bride, R. G. Hartle to Miss Clara Seabough.

R. ELF.

LAPLIN.

Mr. Editor:—Not seeing anything from our town, I thought I would give you a few lines.

Health is good now.

F. B. Clippard, our next assessor, went to mill Saturday.

A ten-pound boy engaged board with William Cook the other day for the next twenty-one years. Will be hitting the high places.

We have two blacksmiths in our town and two wheat markets and two clubs.

The democrats organized a club with 27 and in two weeks met and increased their number to 42 members.

The trust party organized the same night with 47 members including all their county candidates and several from Cape county.

The democrats elected the following officers: G. H. Robinson, president; R. A. Basel, vice-president; Thomas Hartle, secretary.

The trust lodge has never met since they organized and never will until that old walking demagogue at Marble Hill comes down and calls them together.

The Cape County Milling, or trust company are going to put in a spur and build a wheat house here, they say.

Moses Pittman returned from Flat River Saturday.

E. D. Stephens has moved to our town.

Fred Clippard is the rankest trust-party man here.

Our leading democratic wheel-hor, C. H. Robinson, sold the first load of wheat to the old wheel-hor democrat Saturday, B. S. Snider.

The big show is coming! It will exhibit in the U. S. Nov. 6, 1900. Bill Empire, Teddy Expansion, Mark Trust, Joe Flory, Long Joe and the county ticket will be in the side show where the monkeys and all other curiosities are usually exhibited.

BUCHANAN.

After an absence of two weeks we are coming again with a few locals.

Everything quiet at Buchanan.

Corn harvest is here with a light crop to harvest.

App Corbin left here Monday, bound for Indiana.

A. W. Ascher and family was in southern Bollinger and northern Stoddard county, visiting several days recently.

Odus Corbin and James Gilmore will leave here shortly for Koleson, Indiana.

Charlie Corbin of Owensburg, Indiana is here visiting his parents Mr. & Mrs. Frank Corbin.

The democrats of this precinct met at the school house last Saturday night to organize a Bryan club. After the crowd had assembled it was seen that the house was too small to accommodate the audience and they moved their meeting to Corbin & Corbin's mammoth mill where a part of the crowd could have shelter. Hon. George

B. Myers called the meeting to order and made a few timely remarks, Judge Dellinger, Sheriff Dixon, Representative Welker, and Collector Yount made some eloquent speeches which were received by the audience amid the best of order. Jake Slinkard also gave a talk to the audience for their education. The number present was estimated all the way from 300 to 500. Nothing wrong with Buchanan.
